A PAPER DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF RAYMOND

RAYMOND, ALBERTA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1911

VOL. 9

No. 5

CANADA SOLE TOPIC IN PRESS

London, Jan. 31.—The Daily Telegraph discussing colonial trade says that the case of Canada is difficult and we must avoid dismal language and exaggeration. There is no reason why the United Kingdom trade there should not thrive and expand as vigorously as before. In some respects the projected reciprocity might be worse. It is a blunder not to recognize that the very little advantage which Britain already enjoys may be sacrificed under the Laurier-Taft agreement, but even so, there is no fall time for the Imperial conference to work.

Freedom for Canada

The Chronicle says that the reciprocity agreement is a staggering blow at the tariff. Just as Britain claims the right to exercise fiscal freedom so we should enjoy freedom in a similar freedom for Canada. Liberal liberty is a condition of Imperial unity.

The Daily News is sarcastic regarding the statements of the Hall and times that Imperial conference is

Islands of Leaders

The London Express contains a big map professing to show how the agreement has been the Canadian frontier, as was marked at their very doors. The doors are described as "battered, broken and bolted." Editorially the Express says that the port of Imperial federation has taken a step for isolation and deadly form. "The United States" has grasped the opportunity we created and the future of the empire is at stake owing to the means of isolation of our doors.

Protest for Plunder

"The Express in a column states that Mr. Fleming says that even his latest political opponents are among the first to speak for his absolute integrity. His career has been a public one, and his integrity is a public one. Sir Wilfrid Laurier told him out as the next Liberal Premier."

Triumph for Statesmanship

The Morning Leader's parliamentary correspondent says that the article tonight drawn across America is now removed and the lifeblood is able to flow freely between the North and South. It is a great triumph for Canadian statesmanship.

The Daily Mail argues that Canada has no choice but to accept the United States' offer for trade and reciprocity. The agricultural development of the United States has reached the limit where Canada is searching the world for men with capital to develop her prairies, forests and mines. The United States demand that the critical hour has struck when there must be a wide open door into Canada which the United States have not had nearly half a century ago. It was impossible for Canadian negotiations to reject an offer so generous. It is not expected that the signing of the agreement is certain however.

The Mail also published an article asserting that Britain had not acted on Chamberlain's advice and closed with the colonies before it had been too late.

Post, Gen. Samuels speaking last night said the department is giving early attention to press cable news, now undoubtedly such and a reduction would do more than anything to facilitate international communication.

The Morning Post about the reciprocity agreement says that he is since Chamberlain retired has the preference policy been in such a critical condition and the course of events shows how great his force might have been. While the agreement is a serious setback it is not a mortal blow.

POSTMASTER GAVE HIMSELF UP

Sydney, N. S., Jan. 31.—After eluding the police and postal authorities several weeks, William O'Neill, postmaster at Watford, N. S., gave himself up yesterday, to answer charge of stealing from mails, packages containing $1,000 in cash. The money belonged to the Watford branch of the bank of Nova Scotia. The Watford agent of the bank addressed the package to Sydney branch and returned it at Watford postoffice. The package did not arrive and when investigation began, it was found that O'Neill was missing. A few days later O'Neill gave the package to a clergyman a Truro requesting that it be delivered to Truro branch of the bank. O'Neill then again disappeared, but returned yesterday and surrendered.

TEMPLEMAN'S SCRAP WITH JARDINES

Victoria, Jan. 31.—Copies of resolutions passed by the Esquimalt local association condemning the local member, John Jardine, for joining the Conservatives, were distributed on the desks of the members in the Legislature today by page boys, at the request of C. J. McIntosh, secretary of the provincial Liberal association. Mr. Speaker Ewart declared this to be gross breach of privilege.

John Jardine, explaining why he left the Liberals, told of difference of opinion regarding the railway policy, and also of differences between himself and Brewster, of Alberta, as to who should be the Liberal leader in the Legislature. Incidentally, he described a fight he had last October with Hon. Wm. Templeman in the government building here, and told how Templeman put his fist against his mouth and nose and said: "You have been doing a damn good job and I am a Strangler." Then said Jardine, amid the laughter of the house, "I got my Marquis of Queensbury belt under me and uttered the words of my left shoulder and relaxed the right and left, 'hit'."

Mr. Jardine claimed he got the best of the fight because he drew blood and Templeman did not. Brewster, of Alberta, who is now the only Liberal member of the British Columbia legislature, condemned Jardine's speech as the washing of the government's dirty linen in public and said it was a shame for Jardine to hit a man old enough to be his father, and hinted if Jardine wanted any Marquis of Queensbury points, McIntosh would be ready to do them.

Owing to the absence of Premier McBride, no action was taken regarding the breach of privilege, although Speaker Phelan's remarks indicated that he would come up again when the premier returns on Wednesday.

GREAT HELP TO CATTLE TRADE

Strandon, Jan. 31.—Interviewed here in regard to the proposed reciprocity arrangement, Jas. Bower, president of the United Farmers of Alberta, said: "It is not the placing of wheat on the free list which affects us in Alberta. The question of cattle is of equal importance. The fact that they have placed it on the free list will revolutionize the entire trade in our province. If we can get cattle free to Chicago we will be more than satisfied with the result of negotiations. It will practically mean a solution of the rate question in Canada for it will force down the freight rates which now exist and which we have been endeavoring to reduce for so many years."

"I don't see," said Mr. Bower, "how the placing of wheat on the free list can affect the milling trade. They are right on the ground where the wheat grows, and it should not place them in an unfair position at all."

NEW ISSUE OF STAMPS

Not Likely that George V. Design will Be Out Until July

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 31.—Nothing has yet been decided in regard to the new issue of Canadian stamps bearing the portrait of King George the delay being due partly to the absence of the Postmaster General on his South African tour. It is impossible that the design will be issued upon until after the British government decides on its issue. When Queen Victoria died a new set of stamps was not issued until after the coronation of King Edward.

SUED FOR $28,430 BOARD BILL

New York, Jan. 30.—James C. O'Connell, retired real estate dealer, is charged with neglecting to settle his board bill for twenty-eight years, in a suit brought by Joseph Crager in the Supreme Court today. Crager's bill amounts to $28,430.

FIRE AT STRATHCONA

Strathcona, Jan. 31.—Forty thousand dollars in the bond loss caused by a fire which broke out here this morning. The principal sufferers being Cooke, Owen & O'Brien Lumber Co., Wright and Cashell, who are heavy losers.

Alberta Farmers' Favor Reciprocity Bill

Calgary, Jan. 28.—The attitude of the farmers of Alberta towards the proposed reciprocity agreement may be taken to accurately represented by the views of W. J. Tregillus, vice-president of the United Farmers' of Alberta. It is a move in the right direction, and the only criticism that may be directed at it, is that it does not go far enough. We want the whole world for a market. We have had too narrow a market and there has been no competition; but now that the American market has been thrown open to our grain, we may expect competition and better prices. The more competition there is for our products the better returns we shall receive for our labor.

"I believe that we shall also greatly benefit by the lower freight rates to the American markets as compared with the rates to British and foreign markets."

"The farmers of Alberta will welcome the removal of the duty on cattle, horses, swine, sheep and poultry, for they have within easy distance a profitable market for live stock. It is believed that for more attention will be paid to this province to stock raising as a result of the removal of the duty and that our wealth will increase correspondingly. There is no better country under the sun than Alberta for the raising of cattle, horses, sheep, swine and poultry, and all we need was the incentive of a convenient and profitable market, which will be provided if the agreement is ratified."

"I am greatly disappointed that the duty on agricultural machinery was not removed. The reduction of duty on such machinery is of great importance, and it is hard work considering."

"In my opinion, there are no grounds for fearing Cattle Stamp as a competitor. We have cheap land and good land in Alberta, and all we need to do is to till the soil intelligently to farm scientifically—and if we do so this our agriculturists will become well-to-do if not wealthy. If it could be shown that the international cattle trade would not exist in trade matters—there would be a free exchange of all products between Canada and the United States."

Name of Academy Changed.

The Taylor Academy, as such, is no more. It has been a matter of history. Its existence, however, intensely the institution may have lived, was of short duration. Though short-lived, the Taylor had a remarkable life—active, vigorous, intense. But it is no more as the Taylor Academy.

However, the death of the Taylor Academy was, after all, no death at all. Comparably, it died as the tadpole dies, when it emerges from the tadpole into the frog—merely a step in the evolution of kind.

The Taylor Academy, as kind, is no more, but in its stead, the Knight Academy has sprung into existence—as active, as vigorous, as intense was the Taylor Academy. In other words, the Taylor Academy has become the Knight Academy, named in honor of the Knight family, here and in Utah, so well known as friends and benefactors in a substantial way of Church Schools.

The change was made in this manner: In December last, the General Church School Board, sitting with President Joseph Smith as chairman, made an order changing the name of the Taylor Academy to the Knight Academy, subject to the approval of the local Academy Educational Board.

Upon receipt of notice of said order of change, conditionally entered, President Heber S. Allen immediately took the matter up with all the members of the local board, as well as with all the Priesthood in Stake meeting assembled Saturday.

And so the Taylor Academy becomes the Knight Academy, in honor of this family of generous benefactors to Church Schools. Moreover, we bespeak for the Knight Academy generous support from these same people.

Don't forget, please, to write it the Knight Academy, for by such name it will hereafter be known.

Friday, February 3rd 1911

A woman, whose husband died recently, leaving her with $2,000 life insurance, reported the sad news thusly: "Jim died this week. Loss fully covered by insurance."

The angry man puts himself at a disadvantage. He arrays things two to one against him. Loss of self-control means a loss of grasp on everything else. Anger is weakness, not strength. To pride one's self on "high spirit" is really priding one's self on lack of will power and intelligence. To rule one's spirit is essential to Christian character.—Ex.

Mr. Jones and Mr. Smith were conversing. "Say," said Smith "Do you know why you are like a donkey?" "No," said Jones in surprise. "Why because your better half is stubbornness itself!" said the brilliant Smith.

Jones thought over all the way home, and on arriving he looked at his wife with the expression of a man who is going to do himself honor and said "Say, Mrs. Jones why I am a donkey?" There was a long silence from his wife and then smiling pityingly and said: "Why, it's because you were born like it, I guess."

Our teachers are working hard and successfully but they never can tell whether their work is appreciated or not unless they have some intimation to the effect from the patrons of the schools. Parents should make it a point to visit the rooms in which they have children. Kindly visits from parents have an inspiring influence both on teachers and pupils and if the visit be accompanied by an occasional word of encouragement so much the better.

The man who handles the local department of a newspaper learns after due experience not to expect even briefly expressed thanks from a column of pleasant things, but he knoweth as surely as cometh the winter that a single line in which there is an unintentional representation will cause someone to be heard as if from a house top. And we may add that when he has made pleasant mention 999 times of some person, place or thing but on the thousandth time fails to do so he must not expect to be forgotten. The omission may have been from accident or even an entire lack of knowledge. It matters not. The simple fact remains and he will be judged by that.

Talk about your weather! Why we've had spring, summer, fall and winter this week.

O, you farmers! While you are waiting for spring, why don't you get your farm machinery ready for spring work?

Yes, it's just the little things that hurt. A common every-day remedy little fly will make an orthodox Christian swear forty strokes to the minute, while if the same man had his head taken off by a July tornado he wouldn't say a word about it.

A farmer near our town recently hired a lad to help him do chores. One morning he told him to take some salt and salt a calf out in the pasture. The boy took a quart of salt with him and thoroughly rubbed it all over the calf, working it into the hair. A gang of colts in the pasture scented the salt and got after the calf. They licked all the hair off the calf and nearly took he hide off too.

The latest invention to hang in the dining room is the gum board. It's a neat little circular board, plain or decorated, fastened to a wall. The name of each of the family is painted on the circumference, and marks the spot where the gum is left until wanted. This saves carrying the gum to bed and getting it in one's hair or swallowing it in the night. It is obvious that the gum board supplies a long felt want, and he who invented the new fad will have the good wishes of the young ladies.

Every young lady mark it down as a fact that if she flirts and associates with "jack up" she will soon have no choice for a suitor. No matter how unjust it may be, there will always be a suspicion that those who are not above making such acquaintances are not as pure in heart as they ought to be. It would be unjust to say that no pure minded girls flirt. They do and many of them lose their purity by so doing. Others, though not so unfortunate, subject themselves to suspicions which every woman should be above.

"Why I Am a Mormon"

by O. F. Ursenbach?

It is a well arranged little work of 212 pages wherein the Mormon question is treated in a very simple and convincing manner.

The work opens with a retrospect of the ages where an abridged account of the Gospel through many centuries is given, leading up to existing conditions at the beginning of the nineteenth century. Joseph Smith as a prophet chosen of heaven is given lengthy consideration together with the story and cause of Mormonism's existence; next comes the testimony of true doctrine which shows Mormonism to be in perfect harmony with the Holy Scriptures; following is the testimony of archaeology in which many scientific evidences along the line of America's extinct races furnish striking support to the divinity of the Book of Mormon. Chapters on the testimony of geology, astronomy, prophecy and of the soil furnish strong evidence of Mormonism's divine appointment. A chapter on Mormon conception of the miraculous so blends miracle with natural phenomena as to carry conviction in their possibility. The chapter on Mormonism's life depicts what they as a people are in their every day life.

What the Press has to say.

It gives a synopsis of the founding of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, together with a resume of its doctrine, principles and teaching, and a comparison with discovered scientific facts which bear out the truths presented for consideration.—Deseret News

The work shows the author is a close student of religious history and notes the progress of man's moral nature.—Logan Republican.

A comprehensive history of Mormonism so simple that a child could read and understand and yet so broad and deep that geologists, astronomers, archaeologists, theologians, philosophers and thinkers will find much to interest them. The chapters on archaeology, astronomy and geology so weave Mormonism with prehistoric America that it is difficult for a sceptic to separate them.—V. S. Pete in Utah Independent.

A little work which can but prove useful to the missionary; to the young people and the Church, also to the candid investigator generally.—Logan Journal.

The book is the fruit of diligent thought and research, dealing with conditions of the world in many different periods and the progress of nations in the field of religious thought.—Boxelder Journal.

The Author presents the Mormon question from scriptural, scientific and logical phases, in a very convincing manner, together with an interesting account of the rise and cause of Mormonism's existence.—Grand Globe.

The Author gives his reasoning down through the stream of time, dealing with the evidences found in scripture, archaeology, astronomy, geology, the soil, etc., giving in clear and concise manner why he believes from all these evidences that Mormonism is not a myth or heresy.—Boxelder News.

U.S. IN NEED OF CANADIAN'S PRODUCTS

New York, Jan. 31.—The executive committee of the New York Mercantile exchange, whose members handle most of the agricultural products coming to this city, has voted its endorsement of Canadian reciprocity agreement and it is expected that the exchange will ratify this action at its formal vote of its members at their next meeting.

A statement accompanying the endorsement of the executive committee's action is as follows: "The reciprocity agreement will tend to minimize fluctuations in the produce market, particularly in such staples as butter and eggs. Its adoption will be followed by some reduction in prices on this side of the border and probably by a slight increase in Canada. The new scale of prices will be fair enough for the farmer and will offer the much needed relief to consumers."

"It will be found that practically all commission merchants will favor reciprocity with Canada, since bringing of Canadian farm products, especially butter and eggs, which might have been brought into this country has been practically prohibitive as was the intention of farmers of law that it should be."

Only at rare intervals when the price of American butter has gone up has it been possible to bring Canadian butter into the United States, and even then the risk was great and the profits small.

There is a demand which the American farmer cannot meet.

The United States has 92,000,000 inhabitants and Canada about 8,000,000. There is no reason why that protective country to the north should not furnish supplies for feeding the people of the United States out of its surplus.

The addition of Canada to our food supply territory should not hurt farmers. There is room for all and stimulus of competition will help him in the long run.

The concert given last Saturday by the Raymond-Concert Orchestra was certainly a success on the part of the conductor, Mr. Uriel O'Brien and all who gave their support in an effort to treat the public to a first class musical entertainment and proves that we have a splendid lot of local musical talent. The undertaking as a whole was very commendable and merited much better patronage than was extended by the public. What's the matter Raymond, have you no encouragement to offer to home talent.

On Thursday night the local Mutual Improvement Association turned their meeting into a Story Telling Contest. Port William, Jan. 31.—That a local employment agency had represented to John Pollock, who was frozen to death yesterday on a lonely walk out three miles west after leaving the isolated railway of State River, when as a matter of fact the distance to the pulpwood camp to which Pollock was going was thirty miles, is the assertion of a number of irate settlers who arrived from State River today. They assert that since the first heavy snow the laborers have arrived at night have to walk only a short distance. As a blacksmith shop is the only building at State River and trains run out every twenty four hours, the men are compelled to start at night on their perilous journey through the snow. Pollock started with several other men for one of the camps. He was no prepared for a long cold trip and being exhausted fell behind, lagged down in the snow and died.

Nelson, Jan. 31.—The Montana Lumber Manufacturers' Association yesterday passed a resolution, strongly condemning the reciprocity arrangement. Otis Staples, the president of the association, in putting the motion, said that as a native of the United States, and an one who hoped to lay his bones in that country, he desired to protest as strongly as he could against the proposed reciprocity tariff arrangement. He was in British Columbia, and was willing to do his share in its development, but this development would be rendered much more difficult, and would be unduly retarded if the proposed measure of reciprocity was adopted.

It would constitute a blow to the industries of that country, for which there was no justification.

Toronto, Jan. 31.—"We might as well dump our elevators in the lake if this reciprocity agreement goes into effect," declared the speaker, who declared he spoke on behalf of the sister town of Port Arthur, more particularly.

"We have spent fifteen millions in elevators there, and it will be a straight loss," said he. "With free wheat our grain will go to the United States millers and vast quantities of wheat now stored in the elevators at the head of the lakes and later shipped for export, will go via Duluth and Buffalo in American boats."

Mr. Carrick stated that the Port Arthur council would take the matter up and protest against the proposed reciprocity arrangement.

The city of Hamilton had a surplus of 160,000 last year.

The assault charge which Charles Foltz, a supporter of Mr. Douglas, has laid against Samis, will be heard to day. The election has been warm one all through, but election day passed quietly.

It is flatly denied that Hon. J. J. Fox, attorney-general of Ontario, will resign on account of his health.

London, Jan. 31.—It is anticipated that the Imperial preference will form the subject of a unilateral amendment to the address at the opening of parliament for business next week.

Following are some opinions on the reciprocity agreement.

Norton Griffiths: "If the agreement is ratified the Americans will wipe our eyes in great style."

Wallace Carter, secretary of free trade union: "It is too early to prophesy but it looks like the final blow for the whole tariff movement in Great Britain."

Toronto, Jan. 31.—By way of bonus to the employees that have been in their service for one year or more the W. J. Gage Company following a custom which they began last year, will this year divide up $5,500 in their profit sharing method. In dividing up the shares among the different employees, notice is taken of the length of service of each employee and his opportunity is made accordingly.

Magrath, Jan. 28.—The Old Folks of Magrath and district were royally entertained by the Old Folks Committee yesterday. This movement of entertaining the old people was started by the President of the Mormon Church several years ago and two parties are held each year—an indoor party and supper in the winter, and an outing to some resort in the summer.

These events have become very popular here, and the one this year was equally as good, if not better, than those of previous years.

At 1 o'clock in the afternoon about one hundred people sat down to a sumptuous banquet. A most tempting menu was served and thoroughly enjoyed by the old veterans, and a number of other specially invited guests. At 3 p.m. a splendid program was rendered for the entertainment and enjoyment of the honored guests. After the program the whole party proceeded to the new Bennett Electric Theatre, where an excellent moving picture show was put on. The day was closed with an old-time dance in the Assembly hall, which brought back the happy memories of long ago.

The entertainment was a great success and too much credit cannot be given the committee, especially the chairman, Mr. A. M. McNeil, for efforts put forth in making happy the old people, respectively of each of this district.
